With deep appreciation, I would like to thank the Chairs and committee coordinators/contributors for completing this month's issue in spite of their constant involvement in various of summer activities. I give special thanks to those who managed to submit their reports and articles in time for Issue No.8 and also for keeping our class members continuously well informed. Go 70ers!!!

There is an interesting article in this issue for you to read. It is was written by Irene Tunanidas of Youngstown, Ohio about the benefits of attending deaf education conferences after her retirement from teaching. Thank you, Irene.

Chair's Corner

Kathy McIntire Sutton, Chairperson

These past two months have been CRAZY. My husband, Rob and I sold our CA home, gave away our furniture, packed our clothes and stuff and drove to our AZ home in Gilbert. Rob officially retired on August 1st. We are not quite settled but hopefully will be soon.

I was browsing through from 1967 through 1970 yearbooks. They brought a lot of cherished memories. I had forgotten some of them and I was glad that I went through the yearbooks to relive those memories. Why don't you go through your yearbooks and see what memories you will remember?

I will be attending the DSA 2019 in Seattle, Washington in September. I recognized many of class members' names listed in the DSA list. I am looking forward to seeing you there. There may be some that I do not know but will be glad to meet you there, too.

I am planning to attend the 2019 Gallaudet Homecoming this October 23-26. The 1969 Class will be celebrating their 50th anniversary reunion. They need 10 volunteers from our class to come and help. It will be wonderful for those 1970 class members who live close to Gallaudet come and help. Please let me know if you are interested in helping the 1969 Class by contacting me via chair70@robandkathy.net.

You can see the chart on the next page that we are looking for volunteers to be our coordinators for Wednesday night's Welcome Back and for Parking/Transportation. We would love to have you as part of our team!

The Benefits of Attending Deaf Education Conferences
by Irene Tunanidas, M.Ed., M.S.

Why I participate in Deaf Education seminars after my retirement from public school teaching in 2013? This is a question often asked by former colleagues and friends from our Ohio Deaf Community. I like to stay active to improve cognitive function by writing stories and participating in deaf community-sponsored activities and deaf education conferences to learn new teaching methods in work with deaf children. I have been an advocate of deaf children’s education rights and I support having deaf mentors in Deaf Education Programs to help deaf children know that they have a future.

Some of my best memories during my 38-year teaching career in two Ohio School districts were attending Deaf Education conferences in several institutions of higher learning to gain knowledge on new teaching methods for use in the classroom to develop deaf children’s learning skills in elementary-level subjects.

After receiving my teaching degree from Kent State University in 1972, four Ohio school districts rejected my application for teaching employment. At that time, Special Education administrators were taking precautions by not hiring deaf teachers that may use sign language in the deaf classroom.

In 1972 Youngstown, Ohio School District gave me the opportunity to teach deaf children on a conditional basis... only oralism was required in all self-contained classrooms in the Deaf Program. This had changed when The Education for All Handicapped Children, known as Public Law 94-142, was passed in 1975. Signing Exact English was the recommended method for communication in the Deaf classroom. Fifteen years later, The Americans with Disabilities Act was signed into law in 1990.

Some Deaf Programs in Ohio's Public Schools allowed American Sign Language in the classroom and Deaf Culture History was initiated as an elective course in the deaf programs at some Ohio high schools.

Problems surfaced in IEP meetings when parents were often intimidated by the IEP Team and were coerced into accepting recommendations for limited academic opportunities for their deaf children who were functioning near the range of their hearing peers in the academics. Most parents of deaf children in Ohio's Public Schools at that time, had no clue of their rights as said in Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA of 1997). One major setback I had was not getting an invitation to several IEP Conferences at the high school because some of my hearing colleagues did not want parents to know that their deaf child had the opportunity to attend college. Many were placed in the Living Skills Program in Columbus, Ohio without my knowing.

At the beginning of the 21st century, more parents were informed of their rights under IDEA and were becoming involved in their deaf child's education. However; teachers of deaf children in Ohio's schools lacked knowledge on parent resources for deaf children such as: Hands and Voices Chapter of Ohio and the American Society for Deaf Children that offer a variety of supports such as: online articles on raising a successful deaf child, and community resources for deaf children.

During the last years of my 30-year tenure with the Youngstown Public Schools, some parents from our Deaf Program had own challenges in IEP conferences. They learned to conquer fear by exercising their right into accepting or denying recommendations by the IEP Team on their deaf child's academic program. More parents became vocal on having their deaf children participate in advanced programs at the high school for the purpose of preparing them for college.

However, one major remaining issue in Ohio's Public Schools is the phasing out of Deaf Programs and deaf children are displaced in other programs with little or no support services such as: licensed ASL interpreters and tutors. Most young deaf children suffer from language deprivation as they enter Kindergarten. Language deprivation can have an effect on the deaf child's cognitive development which can make it harder for them to process information in problem-solving exercises and writing activities.

After my 2013 retirement from the teaching profession in the two Ohio Public Schools Districts, I have invested time and money to continue participation in Deaf Education conferences to gain information on new developments in the field of technology and literacy. My recent participation in STEM Education workshop at the Deaf Education Conference held in Austin, Texas has been an eye-opening experience for me. Objects such as: insects and plants described in a book are analyzed and broken down into several subject areas to give deaf children an understanding of the object itself. Deaf children are given the opportunity to express in ASL and in writing what they have learned from this experiment. STEM Education creates critical thinking and increases comprehension and enables deaf children to make oral and written presentations on a chosen topic. This is an exciting development in Deaf Education.

Deaf keynote speakers in Deaf Education Conferences today stress the importance of embracing diversity and having deaf children participate in hands-on activities for social and intellectual growth. Some deaf schools focus on a positive school culture for student success. One goal is to establish a successful staff and student relationships to help them become more culturally aware to improve the learning environment, and to engage families in deaf students' academic and school-sponsored activities.

As long as I am in good health, I plan to travel more here and abroad. My goal is to visit schools for the deaf in Italy and Ireland in the future.

50th Year Anniversary Book Report

Bernie Brown, Coordinator

Hi buddies,

Just wanted to “remind” you about the September 30, 2019 deadline for submitting your profiles for our 50th Anniversary book. Connie Paine Henes reported she has received profiles from 15 people as of August 5, 2019. I have reserved 121 pages (I made this estimation) for our individual profiles. In addition to this, Connie expects you to furnish a portrait of yourself, preferably similar to the one in our 1970 yearbook. It does not have to be formal one; a selfie will be workable, too. You can check sample copies in the class of 1968’s anniversary book.

Besides the individual profile pages, I have prepared a template indicating that our anniversary yearbook will have 202 pages. Yes, I plan to dedicate the anniversary book to all of us, the 1970 class as we were Gallaudet's biggest change agents! I will explain that we saw the changing of the old guards from the Elstad administration to the Merrill administration which created many, many new feats and accomplishments at Gallaudet and outside. There will be articles on Gallaudet's history, Tower Clock's 150th birthday, '70 class members' rendezvous trips up Tower Clock, and some unseen pictures of '70 activities during college years. Some of you may not know that our 1970 yearbook was the only one in Tower Clock yearbook history to be purchased by Gallaudet's public relations office because of its excellent content promoting Gallaudet. I have a feeling it will happen again!

POWER TO THE CLASS OF 1970!

gally70.com Webmaster Report

Hello Class members!

Several years ago, I set up a page called the Current Profiles for your profile and picture in the gally70 website. Only 20 of you sent me your profile and picture. The Current Profiles page have been there for a long time.

See <http://www.gally70.com/profiles/index.htm>

Below is a list of the class members who submitted their profiles in the Current Profiles page.

Ekle, Nicole	Pierce, Cheryl	Hayes, Elmer
Pratt (Huggins), Sandi	Huggins, Russell	Quartermus, Burton
Letourneau, Charmaine	Shopshire, Jay	Limoni (Kraus), Mary
Stanley (Harris), Sara	McIntire (Sutton), Kathryn	Stefurak, Paul T.
O'Leary (Heaney), Marilyn	Tuccelli, Dr. Michael	Pearson, Janie
Tunanidas, Irene	Petrone (Stratij), Angela	Yates, Sam
Pickering, Frederick	Youngs, Macklin

Now, Bernie Brown, our Anniversary Book Coordinator, is asking you to submit your profile, a current selfie and other pictures for our 50th Anniversary book. You can look at your profile in the Current Profiles page and see if you want to copy some of the information for your new profile for the 50th Anniversary Book.

After you submit your profile/current selfie/pictures to Connie Paine Henes (connieh70profile@yahoo.com), please let me (paulstefurak@pobox.com) know so I can remove your profile from the Current Profiles page. I plan to close this page soon because the 50th Anniversary Book will have your profile and pictures. There is no need to have the Current Profiles page in the gally70 website. Thanks.

How did you feel when you first saw snow?

I saw the very first snow when I was in New York visiting my friends at Christmas. It surely was a great experience. I felt wonderful when I saw it because I always wanted to see it. At first when the snow was falling, I thought it was old white paint falling off the wall. My friend told me it was snowing, and I was very embarrassed and happy at the same time. I will never forget that experience.
